Createspace, United States, 2014. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 254 x 203 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Teaching babies to understand the concepts of phonics through word families is one of the best way to help baby understand how to build and read words. By teaching word families, you are doing so much more than just teaching at, at, at. (1)You are teaching baby that words are built using patterns. (2)You are demonstrating the first steps of morphemic awareness (manipulating sounds and word parts to make words.) Once baby knows their alphabet they can use what they know to start building words. I have included tracing, labeling, rhyming, making words, and reading activities. I have also included some flash cards to help baby acquire more words.
