Meters as required can then be taken from the tested racks, in the order in which they have been tested, and sent out on circuit. Wiring.--The system of wiring of the test rooms depends upon several things, such as the type of meters employed, the output of meters required, the nature of the supply current, and the pressure at which it is decided to supply the main current for testing. In all probability both watt-hour and ampere-hour meters are used. In alternating-current work provision for the testing of watt-hour meters is sure to be necessary. In order that connections suitable for various tests may be made quickly, a connection...
