But under existing regulations no more houses can be built within the alleys and no more frame houses can be built within the fire limits of the city. There has, therefore, been an almost complete arrest of building houses to be rented for twelve dollars or less per month. The house famine for this class of houses is also being accentuated by natural decay and the condemnation of insanitary houses. A law was enacted in May, 1906, establishing a board for the condemnation of insanitary dwellings and up to June 30th, 1908, this board had taken action upon 959 houses, of which 545 have been demolished and the rest are under notice for demolition or repair. The condemnation of insanitary houses by the Board of Health, then in existence, was authorized by Section 9 of an act of Congress...
