The Prince Regent had issued numerous cards of invitation for an entertainment at Carlton House, on the fifth, in honour of his Majesty s birth-day; but the change that had occurred caused the fete to be put oft to the twelfth, and afterwards to the nineteenth; when, says the courtly journal, it took place under the happiest aspect of the heavens, for the night was most serene. Upon no previous occasion, and at no court in Europe, was ever the experiment made, to set down two thousand of the principal nobility and gentry of the kingdom to aregular supper. About nine o clock, the whole fashionable world was in motion. Coaches and chariots collecting from all quarters, were seen converging to one FETE AT CARLTON HOUSE. 419 spot; but, contrary to the laws of attraction, the velocity decreased with the nearness of the approach, and it was past midnight before the whole assemblage was formed within Carlton House. The royal family of France, including Louis the Eighteenth, the Duchess d Angouleme, and all the princes of the house of Bourbon, entered through the gardens about ten, and were received by the Regent in state. The conservatory was one of the most distinguished objects of admiration in the arrangement. The building presented, at a glance, the appearance of a lofty aisle in a cathedral....
