Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Tourist s Guide Book to the City of New Orleans I offer you an omelette soufflé, a palm-leaf fan and a rose! It makes not the slightest difference what is one s first impression of this quaint and sunny old city, lying half asleep, blinking, as it were, under her luminous skies, luxuriously lounging on the elbow of the great yellow river; in the end one is sure to conclude that when she spoke, when first her tender message was breathed into the ear, it was an invitation something like this: I offer you a palm-leaf fan, an omelette soufflé, and a rose. It is early in the morning, late in the season, and young in the year; but it is the time of all times when this old, half-French, half-Spanish town of ours, with her beautiful women and foreign ways, her odd, grim houses, and lovely rose gardens, pink and bloomy, is at her best. A sky more blue than the lid of Italy is overhead, and against it are limned the dull, gray belfries, the leaping steeples and gilded crosses of her sanctuaries; roses blossom on her iron balconies, a very balustrade of bloom is at the edge of her red tiled roofs in the musty French quarter, the perfume of the sweet olive interpenetrates all her shady places, and the sense of a new, different and foreign life impresses the stranger. The very tinkle of the bells has a novel and enticing sound, and in a little while one realizes that one has some here to enjoy life, to get closer to nature and to human nature, to be glad over the...
